

Mz. Mugzzi's 2011 Predictions

First, before I get started with 2011, I would like to reflect on 2010. It was one of the most difficult and challenging years we have ever faced as a race. I would like to acknowledge our 2010 achievements by starting with you! Many of you woke up and jumped in to help us blow the whistle, educated yourself, joined forums and chat rooms to learn the truth, endless hours of research and anything else you could to become informative of our ascension process and those trying to stop it. You made videos, DVDs, had informational parties, made flyers and utilized your creativity skills to wake others up. Most of the time, it was at your own expense too! To all of you that "selfishly" gave us your energy, money and wisdom; I would personally like to say thank you from the bottom of my heart! What huge sacrifices you have all made to help us all become a more loving and knowledgeable race. Thank you!

A lot has occurred and most of the sheeple are completely unaware of the dangers we faced. It has become very apparent to the watchful eyes that we received outside help and the only reason we did is because some of you got off the coach, turned off your TV's and tirelessly and lovingly started exposing the shadow governments and their evil plans. Without this action we would have never gotten our help from our star families. We would have been viewed as selfish, and a self destructive race that deserved what came to us. However, instead we proved what one person can courageously do to make a difference and correct the evil of the New World Order. For those of you who "tirelessly" worked your butts off, stayed committed to our cause, who fought with due diligence, who used their intelligence instead of weapons; bravo! We did it!

In the year 2011, we will see the fruits of our labor. We will be informed of what activists have uniformly come together to do. Some of you heard the spiritual calling and others just had a knowing it was time to act. You came here to stop the dark cabal from enforcing a New World Order. By keeping informed, teaching others, learning more; has all been part of the process for our new reality. This will be the year where our old paradigm diminishes and the new structure comes into view.

In the medical arena, we now are aware of the poisons in many products and the reasons behind these threats. Pesticides, fluoridation, genetically modified foods, hormones, antibiotics, preservatives, vaccines; we now know why we need to avoid these products. The truth behind the dark cabal's plan, the agencies that have been bought off or strong armed into helping to fulfill the long mission of the dark is now out for all to see. We will begin to see lots of exposure of what we already knew.

People are taking responsibility to eat better, become healthier, and protect ourselves from a genocidal attack. Each and every person will become further educated and knowledgeable about what harms you and how to fix it. People will begin to share their wisdom with one another forming an alliance with your friends and neighbors. Individuals will now understand that the road to recovery and healing diseases is in your hands. What we need to do to stabilize our individual bodies will be up to us to learn and implement. It will be considered "cool" to have the knowledge to fix and heal. An abundance of information will become available and our attention will be focused on improving our longevity AND the quality of our lives. Returning to home grown, home remedies, and naturally organic solutions will be a trend most will follow. You will see an upswing in people's health and becoming more fit and energetic as we begin to heal ourselves. As people get healthier they will also start to look younger too.

Mz. Mugzzi's 2011 Predictions

As we learn to empower ourselves and become successful with that endeavor we will begin to branch into other areas of our lives as well. Education, knowledge seeking, and following your inner voice has led us all into a more discernable world. No longer will someone just take the government's word for something it promises to do. No longer will people stay on the side lines and hope that our savior comes in to fix our world. We now know, we are the "change" our world needs. The blinders are off and it will be very difficult to fool us again. People will have a new founded pride in healing themselves and making wiser choices for them and their families.

With this new found freedom all of us will have a different view of how to approach our lives. We are now more committed to the "Source Energy" of love. People respect one another more than ever. Men are treating woman with a new found acceptance and appreciation. Selfish and self serving people will be standing in the corner alone. It is no longer tolerable for this behavior. People that are considerate, conscientious, and have healthy boundaries will be rewarded with a pleasant and non-stressful life.

Relationships will change for the better. Woman will no longer be interested in the proverbial "bad boy". Men that are rude, abusive, mean, selfish, and destructive of their partners will be lonely men. The marriage of the future will be based on trust, love, respect and a spiritual balance which offers nothing but security and wholeness.

People that are manipulative, conniving, scheming, lying, and abusive will be single. Society will no longer tolerate a partner who does not love themselves first. If someone is carrying around a lot of drama, plays the victim to manipulate others, and chooses to hang onto old karma will be mateless. Hence, the relationships of the future will improve vastly due to people becoming very knowledgeable about relationship skills, harmonizing frequencies, and establishing healthy boundaries for a desirable union.

Since more and more people are becoming more sensitive to energies and auras, we will have an immediate "Bull" detector! It will become easier and quicker to distinguish if someone is truthful, fake, lying, and has good or bad intent. Therefore, it will become automatic for consumers to choose who they want to do business with, politicians to vote for, people to mingle with, and all areas of our lives will improve due to "trusting" our heightened sensitivity to people's motives. Those that have dark energy will go out of business. If they want to stay in business they will have no other choice but to change. Hence, lawyers and the legal field will also go through a dramatic change. Price gouging will be remedied and replaced by reputable companies, and truthful advice and services will be rendered.

Society will want to take responsibility for their business, financial, and health. The old days where you give your resources away blindly due to a degree or title is over. We will become more aware of our surroundings, ask questions, and conduct ourselves like trained professionals.

The next two establishments to go through a dramatic change after the banking are: 1. Legal, 2. Medical. Major overhauls will be forced due to the non-compliance of the customers. WE will choose to handle more of our own legal affairs through the internet. The Medical will change to a more Naturalpathic means which can also be found through the internet. Banking will be established through a "just" system and monitored by the members of congress and a third part Truth Commission.

This also applies to the stock market. It will also be overhauled, and implementation of a more ethical system put in its place to insure a "just" and safe operation. There will be a worldwide "truth" committee that will oversee that businesses of the future are done in a fair and equitable manner so that the elites cannot blackmail, forge, force, kill, or bribe politicians into doing their dirty deeds behind the secret curtains. The Satanist that has been controlling these businesses will be forced out of control and publically acknowledge for the deeds they were involved in. Loop holes will be sealed up so we can safeguard and protect the honest business transactions. We will see improvements starting in June.

Housing, big changes should begin around April. There will be mortgage plans that are fair and honest in nature, in which a family can afford a home with a lower interest rate. I see an introductory offer of 1.99% to re-establish your credit scores and start your new "Constitutionally" financial transactions. The credit scores will be whipped clean (or just forgiven of fault) and a new system put in its place that will reward good credit behavior and not over using the credit system to make bankers rich. Hence, new rules for the credit industry as well, which will also reflect a better reflection of good money management. Yes, housing prices will still decline due to the inflated prices that were manufactured by the elites. The housing market has not found its median range yet and might take another year to do so; more deals can be found.

New technology is on the way! There are quite a few patents of technology that are more efficient and better for our environment that has been withheld from us for over a hundred years. We will soon see cars running on water. A railway system that people use instead of cars to get to longer distances which also runs on steam. Free energy for your home is also in the mix. When these patents are released individual companies, not big elitist, will get the contracts to manufacture here in the USA. This will stimulate our economy and new careers will be groomed to fit the new job descriptions. I also see industrial companies becoming more environmental friendly and offering products that are better and safer for their end user. The monopolies will be broken and dismantled and replaced by more competitive honest ones. The glass ceiling will be removed.

Education is evolving as well. Now that we all know how we have been dumbed down for the "agenda" people with integrity and gumption will flock to the school boards and strong arm a new type of education. Children will begin to learn the new history, the truthful one, and increase their vocabulary in order to establish a more equitable learning process. Math, sciences, and music will all be areas of focus for the new academics. The educational system, structure, and administration will all start to go through an overhaul of a more competitive learning process. This will also be reflected in the foods that are offered for children during the afternoon lunches. As the school system improves there will be more students returning to the campus that use to be home schooled.

All and All, I see a major reversal of all the systems the New World Order has put in place to take over and create hell on earth. There will also be an upswing in people returning to night school to learn and catch up with what was left out of their general education. Working out and staying fit, learning, meditation, and living life in harmony with Mother Nature is going to be the motto of 2011. Getting involved in community events will also be something mom and dad will want to do to insure that they live in a healthy place for their families.

Mz. Mugzzi's 2011 Predictions

This will also be the year where it is firmly noted as being the year that people became aware of our star family friends. Space ships will be widely discussed and accepted. Knowledge between the malevolent vs. the benevolent ET's will also be known. I also see documentaries on the subject of galactic families exploring our future as a universal space race. More truth will be revealed to us about our history with galactic knowledge and also a curiosity for each to explore their own origins. People will become more familiar and comfortable with the news of other life outside of our world. This too will be discussed and learned within the schools.

February will be the time to start to feel more comfortable with the changes coming. The dark cabal will be taken out of commission and a new system will start to become evident. By about April there will start to become programs to help us all get back on our feet economically. In July, we will celebrate the truth of what we just over came and a new founded appreciation for our Constitution will become of light. Politicians that do not subscribe to a higher source of "Godly" behavior will be gone. A lot of trials this year and a lot of revealing of whom was behind the "material" master minded evil plan.

More people will become aware of getting off the grid and starting their own Utopian household and communities. Homes will be built more environmentally stable and work with the energies of earth thereby, making them more desirable. Housing construction will change to a cob style dome house. People will begin to garden, sew, provide more staples which will make them self sufficient.

Crime will be down because it's not tolerated. Society will no longer accept this behavior and not rely on the police to enforce. States succeeding from the union will allow their own guns, which in return helps to thwart the crimes. One by one, states will start to file for their independence from the Federal government. Protection, Liberty, and Sanctuary will be guaranteed by each State and their constituents. It's for the people this time because we say so!

Families, people, children will begin to do more ceremonies to appreciate nature. Returning to nature, nature walks, hikes, and anything to do with mother earth will be wide spread worldwide. People will no longer desire to sit around the TV set. They will turn their attention to family activities, learning, or constructive ways to spend their leisurely time.

As we are all making these great changes for the betterment of mankind, I also see us wanting to learn more about personal relationships and wanting to enhance our intimacy skills. Being driven by work and seclusion will be obsolete. People will want to spend more time increasing interpersonal and communicating skills. Hence, adults returning to school to learn these skills will be a niche for our future.

Well that is it! Our future forecast and this one is a good one. I'm very optimistic about it due to what we have accomplished in 2010. We made this outlook for ourselves by being in the moment and seizing our opportunities. With new leaders coming to the forefront and being honest and ethical will set the standard for all to follow. Enjoy your new world, you deserve it!
